Rebuilding Management, L.L.C. – Liberty, MO2007 – Present

Chief Financial Officer/Co-Owner

Chief Financial Officer for a company that was formed in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. RM is an Internet-based system that provides Long-Term Recovery Organizations, Not-for-Profits, Faith Based Organizations as well as government agencies the ability to coordinate, collaborate, cooperate and communicate in disaster situations with the restoration of housing units.

Rebuilding Management is a robust construction-management system that automates and industrializes the rebuilding process. We used our years of knowledge and experience in the construction industry to build the system. The system coordinates the efforts of not only local relief organizations but also local subcontractors and material suppliers. The system was recently completed and is ready for implementation.

Key Accomplishments:

- Recognized for excellence in integration, the New Orleans Disaster Recovery Program, created by Rebuilding Management, won first place in the 2008 Innovative Housing Technology Awards presented by TecHome Builder magazine. The award pays tribute to RM's innovative use of computer technology to integrate all aspects of the homebuilding process.
- Recognized as the program that can help lead the recovery effort for residential housing in disaster areas by such groups as Louisiana Recovery Organization, New Orleans Recovery Authority, James Lee Witt & Associates as well as other political leaders that have viewed the system.
